President's Message

It is my hope that you have enjoyed a productive and happy year as a student of Red Deer College.

It is my dream that you have been inspired and motivated to learn and that you now feel confident and well-prepared to seek new opportunities and to successfully manage future challenges.

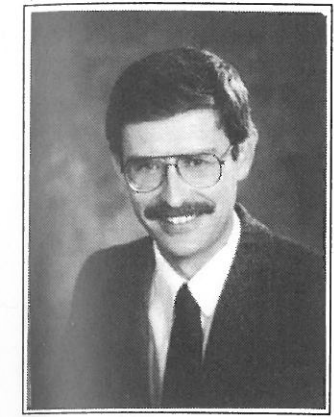

It is my dream that the knowledge and skills you have acquired will prove to be useful in your quest for wisdom, fulfillment and truth and that your reward is happiness and prosperity.

A dream is only a dream until we commit ourselves to the realization of it.

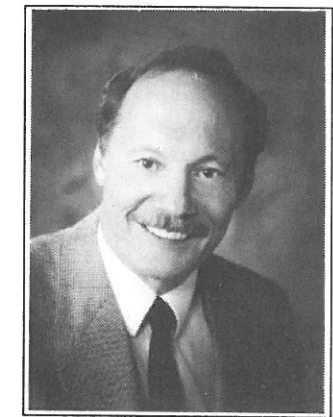

"If you have it in you to dream, you have it in you to succeed."

Message from the President Scott Johnston

Given my undeniable literary talents, I of course drew a blank when asked to write this. So, I looked back at what my predecessors wrote, for inspiration. Some wrote a letter of thanks to those who helped, so I will as well. To make sure that I miss no one in my thanking, I will thank everyone. Thank You!

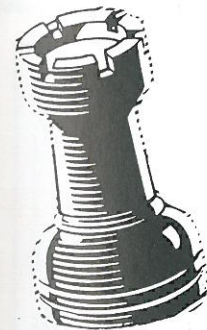

Others wrote about the great year they had, and their many great experiences. My year in office has been very fulfilling on many levels (mostly the Far Side level, I admit). My wide range of duties has provided me with great experience, and hopefully a little insight. But most importantly, it has given me memories. Memories are what this book is all about. All the wonderful people you have met, all the hard work, all the good times are in this book. Hopefully it will help you look back at this year and smile. Please - don't drink and drive, and smile... even when you do not want to.

Yours in mind, body and spirit.

Executive Vice-President Dennis Miller

Vice-President Activities Lori-Ann Claerhout

Wow. It seems as if the year has just flown by - which must mean that we've been busy and having a great time. However, the memories easily come back of the buzz of Orientation Week on the first day of school, only too soon to put names to these faces. Or the rush of seeing Kim Mitchell on stage with 2,000 disguised partiers at Halloween; other shows such as The Skydiggers, The Smalls, The Watchmen, Thomas Frio and The Red Albino, Moxxy Fruvous, and The Bourbon Tabernacle Choir, also come to mind. Other events that stand out for me are "Getting Connected", Multiculturalism Week and experiencing Luke and Warren Peastayn. These are the things that stand out in our minds long after we've forgotten which one was the nuchal muscle or what our grade was in that entry level Psych course.

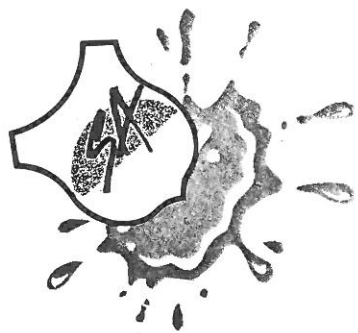

Without a whole lot of great & talented people who actually did the work that I have taken credit for, very little could have happened. Like the security and bar staff, volunteers & committee members, society execs, Bricklayer staff, the other execs and the wise S.A. staff who really know how things run and have offered stability throughout the year. And to the regulars (you know who you are!) - thanks for your continued support and keep partying!

It's been a swell year, thanks - good luck to all and hey, stay active.

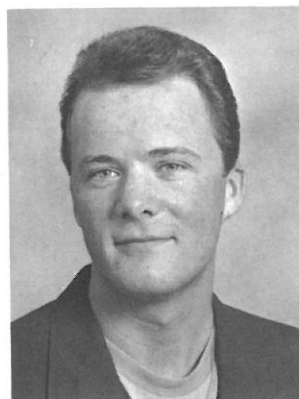

Vice-President Academics Barbara Sheppard

What an exciting year this has been for me! First I want to thank all the students who voted me into office and as for your continuous support all year long - I would not have been so successful without you. I started the year off with the "Success Seminars" which the S.A. had a great response to. Then my year continued with the organization of a number of Forums - Mayoralty, Constitutional Forum, and of course, the Honourable Joe Clark's visit. In my position I assisted a number of students during academic appeals and with concerns they had regarding instructors. These situations have really opened my eyes to the good and the not too good process of the educational system. But for those students I help, I hope you have been successful in your endeavour.

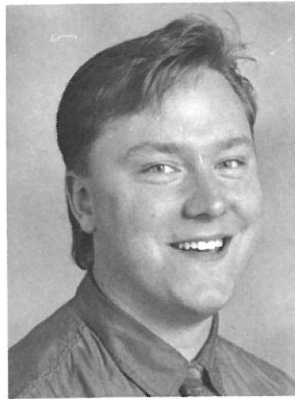

Thank you again to all the Students of RDC for electing me your Academic Vice President for 1992-93.

The Students' Association Council of 1992/1993 has been very busy with a number of major issues, one being the new and revised Students' Association Constitution. On March 3, 1993 a new RDCSA Constitution was passed, after almost two years of revisions and late night meetings.

Then as of September of 1993 the Students' Association will move some of their services to a new building. The Building Proposal has been a five year project, with students investing 21.5% of their SA fees towards the Building Fund, and it will now be a reality.

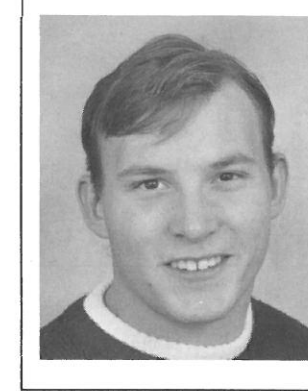

On top of these major issues, SAC members have been participating on a number of committees (READI, CAT Fund, Orientation, Academic Council, CRC, Activities, etc.), attending Divisional meetings and of course organizing forums, pubs, social events and awareness weeks - all for you.

Year in Review

Students weren't always the focus during a very busy year on campus. Canadians were inundated with information on Constitutional reform, a civic election meant changes at City Hall and the Governor General arrived to acknowledge outstanding young Canadians and give us all a lesson in the rigors of protocol.

Written by Rob Gilgan

Pomp, pageantry and politics lit up the Performing Arts Centre all year long. In August, His Excellency the Right Honourable Ramon Hnatyshyn, our Governor-General, arrived to celebrate the Heroes Among Us program. This privately funded celebration honoured exceptional young Canadians from all over Alberta. Canadians didn't accept the Charlottetown Accord and turned down the federal initiative to revise our constitution. The Right Honourable Joe Clark, Constitutional Affairs Minister, packed the Arts Centre to present the YES option, as Reform Party leader Preston Manning pleaded NO over at the Capri. The issues surrounding the Constitutional discord fostered many lively debates on campus, like the pairing pictured above. Ted Newell, CEO and President of Nova Corp of Alberta and Ian McClelland, Reform Party Candidate Edmonton Southwest went on the campaign trail to convince voters of the seriousness of the situation as well as the importance of voting one way or the other.

An SA sponsored Mayoralty Forum drew all the candidates and a healthy gathering of students. Her Worship Gail Surkan emerged the winner in a race that was too close to call when polls closed.

All the politics almost overshadowed Canada's 125th Birthday, a celebration that trundled along in the background until the Governor General's visit. A huge birthday cake commemorating the occasion was enjoyed by a large crowd that included dignitaries, administrators and staff at Red Deer College as well as students and community members.

Oonagh Docherty, RDC's Job Placement Officer and Lori Ann Claerhout, SA Activities VP hosted the second annual Cultural Fair that featured the flavours of our diversity in the Forum. Much more than an inexpensive lunch, students met representatives of many cultures who served their treats with obvious pride. It was also a proud moment on November 20, when the Kevin Sirois Fitness Resource Centre reenacted the opening ceremony of twenty years ago. The Centre has provided a professional level of service to members of the community, both on campus and off.

Orientation

Holly and Cory were only a few of the volunteers who gave a warm welcome to new and returning students the week prior to commencement of fall classes. Many volunteers helped to make Welcome Week a great success, Tonya Flood being one, and they all deserve full appreciation from the Students' Association for their efforts. One of the more memorable events was the great idea of placing a pin on the location of your home town, it gave everyone the opportunity to see how vast our school population has become. There were students from all over the world, like Hastings, New Zealand; Tokyo, Japan; Trivandrum, India; Dubayy, Saudi Arabia; Hammertest, Norway; Santiago, Chile; New York, New York; Weyburn, Saskatchewan; right up to Whitehorse in the Yukon. The result was a plethora of pins.

Another event, during Orientation Week, was the innovation of the randomly placed bricks on the floor to lead you in the right direction towards the forum, although some students thought the bricks were just garbage stuck to the floor. These simulated bricks were just one source of this years theme - "Kings and Queens, The Royal Tradition". Many of the volunteers carried the theme into everyday by wearing their medieval costumes during the Hallowe'en Bash, during Frosh Week and during a Medieval Dinner.

The ceramics shown here, by Tom Aitken and Wendy Berry, were exhibited in the Art Gallery at the Cronquist House in November.

Helen Day, whose drawings were the original reason for the showing, had requested them to join her in the exhibit since she liked their work and felt it complemented the drawings she wanted to show. This collaborative exhibit proved to be very rewarding to all three visual arts students.

Medieval Dinner

As a way to raise money for the production of the Yearbook, a Medieval dinner was organized and attended by approximately 20 people.

Each of the participants who attended dressed in the character of their choice; the costumes ranged from a King and Queen right down to the Jester of The Evening. It was a night of joyous activity and abundant food. This evening was an opportunity to carry forward the theme of the year and for those 'animals' to be let out of their cages and eat openly with their hands and feet.

Ceramic Sale

The Ceramic Sale is an annual event where the students of the Fine Arts program are encouraged to put a price to their work and give the public an opportunity to invest in up-and-coming artists. The items for sale ranged from ashtrays to the famous 'Aiken Art'. Keep your eye out for this exciting extravaganza next year.

Blood Donor Day

The Blood Donor Clinic is a semi-annual event in which students and staff have the opportunity to give blood and feel rejuvenated. This event is organized by Red Cross, Red Deer College, the Phys. Ed. Society and many volunteer helpers.

Trades & Technology

4th year carpentry student, Shaun Smith makes a percision cut on his final exam project.

Heavy Duty Mechanics instructor Bob Blackett adds some humor to an extensive workload.

Norm Macklin makes some fine tuning adjustments in his Sprinkler Fitting class.

Multiculturalism

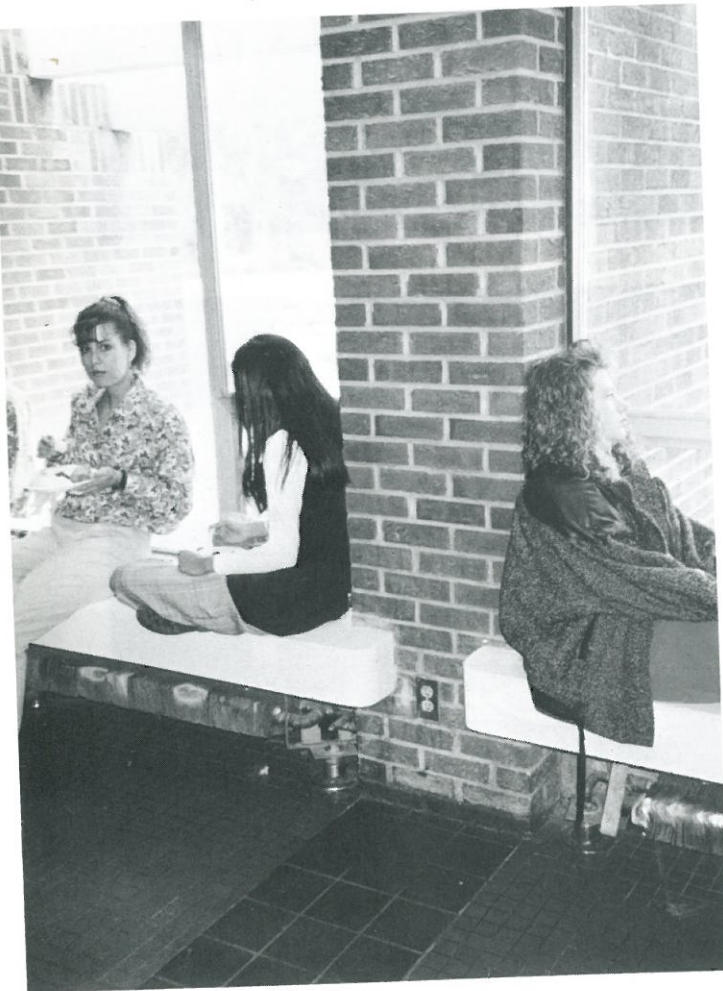

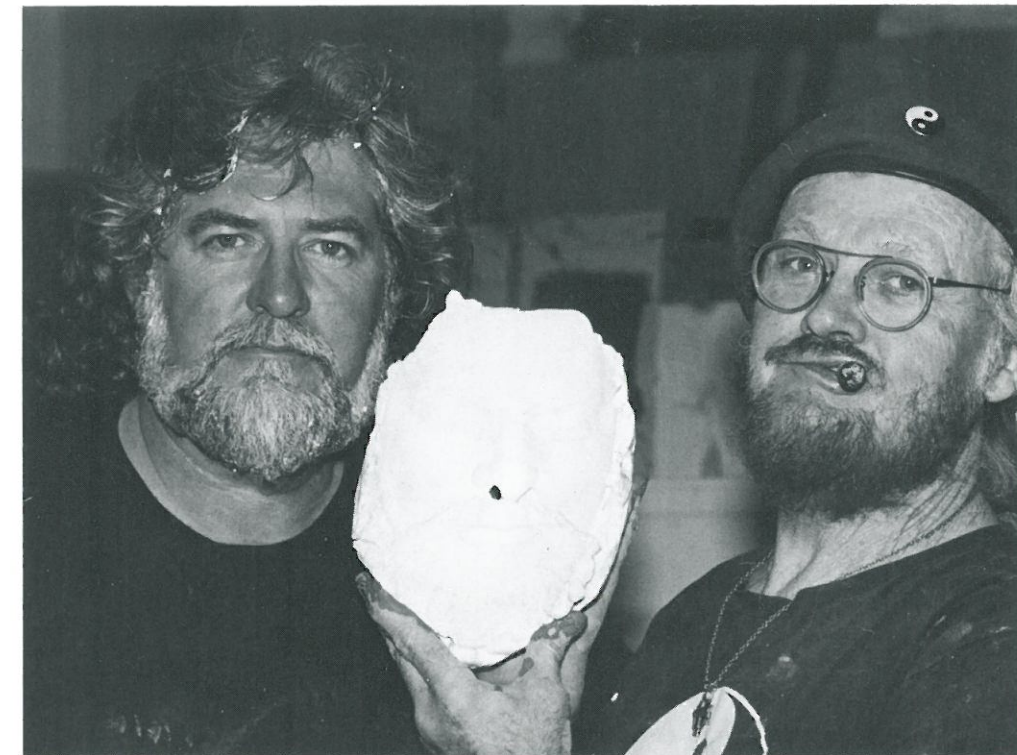

A new tradition has begun at RDC with a Multicultural Awareness Week. Issues such as racism, racial tolerance and ethnic heritage were addressed by members of the College as well as the community during this week. Videos and films were shown, display booths provided information and insight and the free food brought many people out! Various dishes such as rice, perogies, egg rolls, bannock and bratwurst were served to represent various cultures. The only charge was a donation to the Red Deer City Food Bank.

Recreation Administration Activities

Kendra Mathies and Trudy McCarron sport their "Star Reckie" pins at the annual Recreation Administration Orientation in September.

Scott Boyd feels the effects of too much pizza at a general meeting in November.

Lori Humphrey, Pat O'Neill, and Matt Stone take in the view from the top of Mt. Coleseum on the annual hike at the Orientation.

RED DEER COLLEGE TRAILS

ZOO 331 ECOLOGY Field Trip to the College Natural Area.

On a warm day in September the class went on a hike behind the college through a patch of spruce forest which opened onto a high, exposed ridge. The class examined the differences in micro climate between the shade tollernt vegetation on the north facing slope and the luxuriant deciduous vegetation on the south facing slope.

The ECD Math and Science class visited with science teacher Alfred Von Hollen in his classroom / ZOO. The purpose of this field trip was to show the students how an official ZOO can operate within a classroom setting. They learned that science can be all around you. Some took this quite literally.

Daymion Weiss and Jode Terry were recognized for the dedication they showed towards the Students' Association and our annual Hallowe'en bash.

Vanessa Wickes was selected as the first SA Salute candidate, a program which was started up this year to recognize the members of our community who increased the betterment of life at Red Deer College. Vanessa was very deserving of this reward because of her efforts during Orientation Days and her continuous involvement in Student Association events.

The Red Deer College Queens Basketball team came under new leadership this year with Head Coach Celeste Bazinet taking over.

The Queens had a very young, rookie team this year but they played strong and with confidence, coming in forth place in the ACAC final standings. The Queens lost out to the 1st place SAIT Trojans in the semi-finals but not without a fight. Queen's player Bobbi Towers was named to the ACAC Allstar second team. Look for this team to be a major contender next year!

John Johnston took over as Head Coach of the RDC King's Basketball team. John had an extensive career with Camille J. Lerouge with a combined record of 205 wins - 25 losses, five CASAA Championships and three Alberta Provincial Championships. John is also a former RDC King!

The RDC Kings had a very tough season this year, starting off with a great deal of road games. The Kings had many close matches but not enough wins to make it into the play-offs. The Kings ended up in 7th place over all.

Hockey

The RDC Kings had an outlook of optimism heading into the '92/93 season and it paid off. With a mixture of various newcomers and some solid veterans the Kings ended up in second place after the regular season ACAC play. Kings faced some major injuries throughout the season including the loss of Captain and team leader Brent Devost. The Kings ended the year battling it out with the third place NAIT Ooks.

The Queens faced some tough competition but managed to stay together as a team, and come in first place in the regular ACAC league. The team has an even mixture of veterans and rookies, and was led by Head Coach Co Ouwerkerk. Queen's Daniela Pacheco was named to the ACAC Allstar 1st team, Heidi Wilkes and Rea Peters were named to the second team.

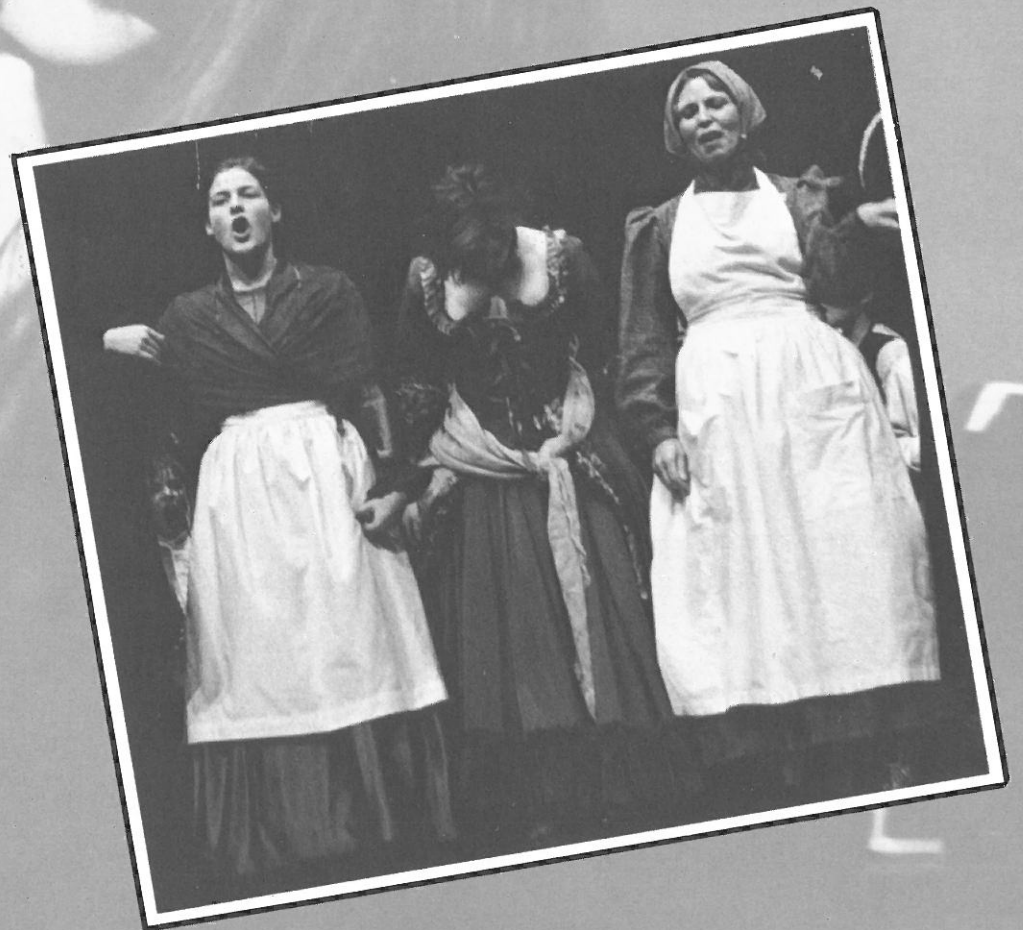

The Red Deer College Volleyball Kings had a good season this year. The team had a number of talented players and a solid Head Coach, Gord Inglis. The Kings played hard and came in third place in the ACAC regular season standings. The Kings were eventually taken out by the second place Grande Prairie team in the semi-finals. King's player John Scott was named to the ACAC Allstar first team.

Theatre

You Can't Take It With You

In 1937 Kaufman and Hart won a Pulitzer Prize for a play about people who learn to define personal happiness not by the imposition of what they do career-wise but by the appreciation of who they are in their hearts. After an evening of mishaps reending from an FBI raid to an explosion of fireworks (literally!) the characters in the play arrive at the belief that, as Grandpa says "Life is simple and king of beautiful if you let it come to you."

Gay Wellington (Dawn Coulter) regales Penelope (Carole Adilman) with stories of her life as an actress.

Layout by Liam Yerbich

Alice (Natasha Young) is shocked by Tony's (Troy Young) agreeing with her family.

Donald (Randy Brososky) fetches Rheba a midnight snack.

Mr. De Pinna (Chris Postle) comes from the basement with his newest type of fireworks.

Tony and Alice discuss their future together.

Penelope tries one of Essie's (Lisa Arnold) new batch of chocolates, "Love Dreams".

Director Larry Reese looks on in anticipation of another great performance.

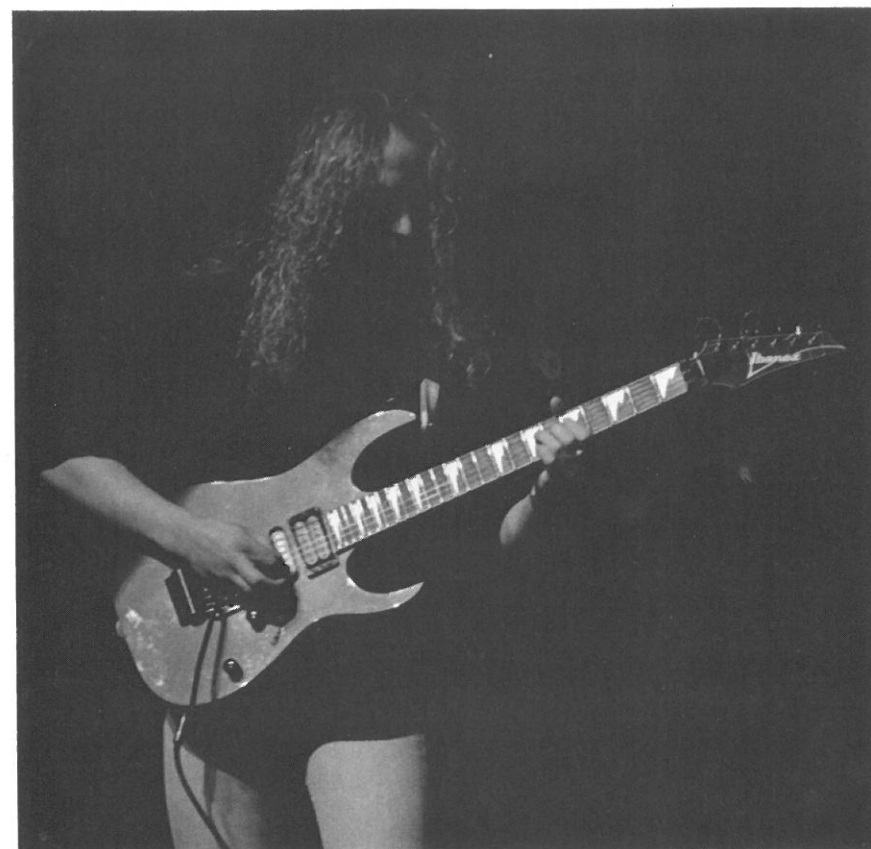

Cast members get ready to warm up for the show.

Yearbook

This years' Yearbook staff consisted of high powered pinch-hitters who dedicated and sacrificed their academic and social lives for two hectic months after the original staff dissipated. Rob Gilgan and Kelly Quine were our life line as they kept us calm and in the right direction. Thanks to both of you!

Our thanks go out campus wide to all the people who submitted miscellaneous write-ups, candid photos and ideas. A special thanks to our advertisers who helped to cover the costs.

This book was typeset by Kelly Quine on a MacIntosh II computer with output to a Apple Laser Plus, and printed in Altona, Manitoba by D.W. Friesen and Sons Ltd. Special thanks to Bob Harding, our Friesen Yearbook representative who supported us with our short timeline.

A farewell bow. The jester says goodbye at the Yearbook Medieval Night.
