L. R. C. NOTES

Perhaps, while we're all fidgeting around in the starting blocks, waiting for the gun, an introduction or two wouldn't be out of order.

L.R.C. stands for Learning Resources Centre, the place in the westernmost reaches of the College which some quaint old fogeys still occasionally refer to as the Library.

We'll be telling you a bit about the facilities (two on each floor) and the services we offer as the weeks go by, partly to help you find your way about, but mainly to resist the total takeover of this rag by those Phys.Ed. people with all their volleyball scores and ping-pong reports.

We'll also be mailing a batch of information to you in a week or so, but for now we'd just like to say hello, wish you all a successful year, and urge you cheat a little - jump the gun we mentioned above. Get over here to the Library, or L.R.C. We're here to help you from 8:00 A.M. to 10:00 P.M. Monday through Friday, and from 1:00 - 5:00 on Saturday and Sunday. Ask us for floor-plans, our individualized filmstrip-record orientation programs, assistance on how to use the catalogue, borrow books, or whatever.

Around here, we call that a good start, not a false start. By the time everyone else gets moving, you'll already be a couple of laps ahead and they'll never catch you! Remember, it's more fun being a winner.

Hey - how did this end up sounding like another Phys. Ed. report?
